Gypsy Boone

We all started out in the same place.
 Straining to see over tall bus seats,
 glimpsing other frightened faces.
 We've all experienced that first day
 in a new classroom.
 And that 1st carefree day in June.
 We held each other's hands when we took our bows after the Michigan play.
 We all proudly sported Lincoln's blue and gray.
 But the thing that we did without really realizing it
 Was growing up.
 When I look down these halls,
 I see the kids from kindergarten now grown tall.
 I see the kids who couldn't keep out of the finger paint,
 working on the latest piece they've created.
 I see the hyper kids, chasing each other at recess.
 Now hard at work at practice,
 struggling for their team to be the best.
 I see the kids who hid behind books, talking freely with each other about the courses they took.
 With each other over the years
 we've learned how to overcome our fears.
 We see in each other a bit of what we see in ourselves.
 And now understand most of what we've felt.
 Now, we are ready to break free.
 To open our eyes to the world and truly see.
 Because the years we've spent here gave us so much.
 Because of what we've experienced here
 while we were growing up.

Lincoln Bus Drivers

THE BAND MARCHES ON

Performing Today For Tomorrow's Memories.

The Lincoln High School bands closed out the century in a wonderful way. The marching band was real active in school activities, performing at all of the home football games and leading the cheering students in Homecoming festivities. The Concert and Symphonic bands played their pieces beautifully at their four performances. The jazz band also played wonderfully, and even opened for Maynard Ferguson and his Big Bop Nouveau Band.

At the High School band festival, hosted here in the Lincoln High Auditorium, the Symphonic Band played steady together in a performance not to be missed. Upon completion of their pieces, the excited members of the band cheered their way to the cafeteria, where they awaited for the judge to enter. As the judge wrote their scores upon the scoring sheet, students cheered and applauded wildly. They had successfully scored straight ones, the best possible score achievable.

Lincoln High School's Symphonic band performing during the District Festival. They played wonderfully together and earned a perfect score.

Mr. Closson directs the Concert Band during District Festival. They would go on to earn a score of two.

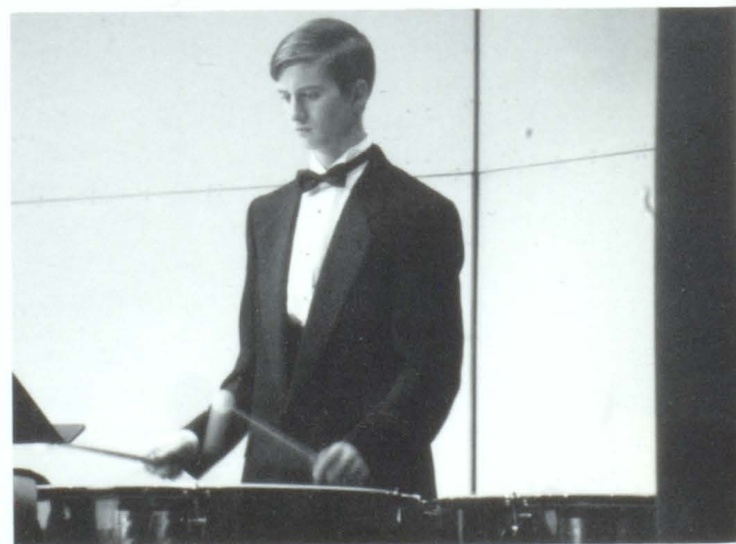

Mr. Closson introduces the Concert Band during the Festival Concert. The band was preparing to demonstrate their abilities in sight reading music.

Junior Davis Brooks on bassoon and Junior Kristine Wielopolski on the saxophone play during District Festival. Their hard work and determination helped the Symphonic band to earn a perfect score.

Junior Evan Richardson demonstrates his skills on the Timpani. He helped keep the percussion together with his steady playing.

With flags in the wind, the Lincoln Color Guard leads the Marching Band to the football field during the Homecoming Parade. Senior Erica Koski sets the example as she leads the Color Guard.

Junior Lee Buckingham marches forward with pride as he prepares to continue playing.

Senior Matt Wysocki watches ahead as the Marching Band comes to their places.

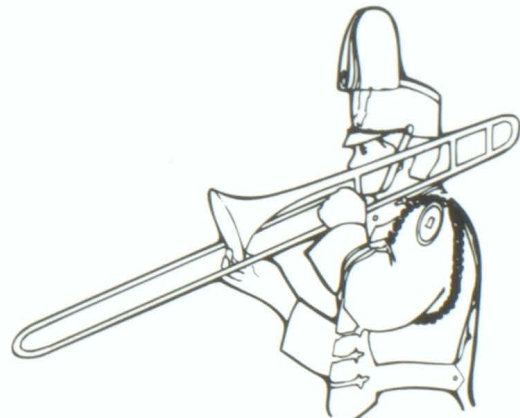

The Lincoln Marching band celebrate the achievements of the football team. They would later put on an incredible half time show featuring a performance of disco dancing.

Senior band members pose one last time for a group photo. This would be the last time they would perform with Lincoln High School's Marching Band.

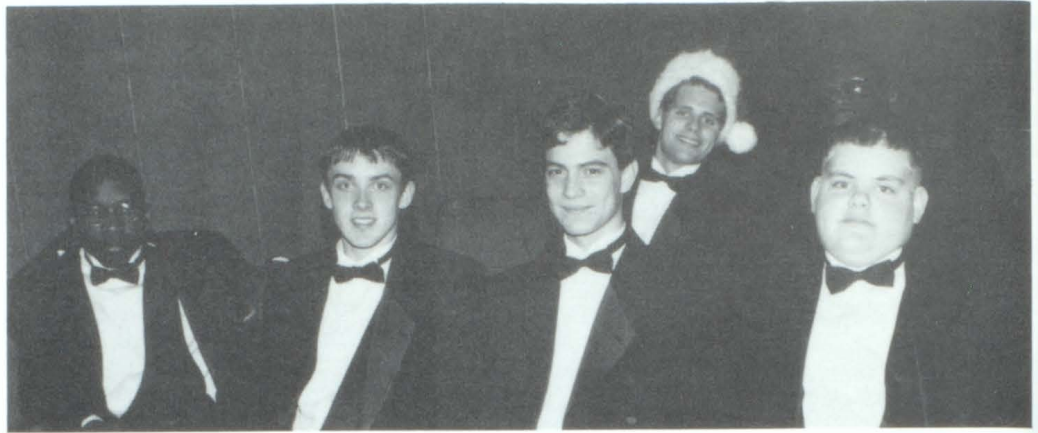

Junior Brad Robinson and Sophomore Jason Branham march in line with the tubas. Their stern concentration and hard work paid off.

Singing Their Way To

The Men of Lincoln wonder patiently at the Christmas concert "Which one of us will be Santa this year Mrs. Nevins?" The Men of Lincoln are the hit of every concert! After singing with the UM Men's Glee Club, they earned their first one at District Festival and were one of only three male choirs at their first state festival.

"O.K. singers" ... "Raise those eyebrows" ... "Silent 'H' please" ... "More consonants" ... "Sing Darrell" ... "Lift the palate" ... "You're late" ... "Lips forward" ... "Breathe" ... "There you have it!" Although choir members may get tired of her constant commands, Choir director Karen Nevins deserves a lot of credit for doing such a great job and helping the choir students do the best they can.

Split Dimension seniors Julie Bumgardner, Sara Stec, Kelly Kibler and Junior Sam Stokes. Split Dimensions earned straight ones at both District and State Festivals. This is the third winning year for most seniors.

SUCCESS

"Mrs. Nevins, if we look energetic, won't you let the men take us on a "Sea Cruise"? Womens Chorus gets better each year. In their first attempt at HH MSVA District Festival, they celebrated a "Festival Sanctus" for a second division rating.

Junior Jenny Viers laughs as she says "David, "Riu, Riu, Chiu" was great — but the tenors and the basses surely won't let you have all the solos!" This was senior David Dejesus' first year in choir, but he was very enthusiastic about doing the solos.

A Child Leaves

Leaving for college has got to be,
The loneliest feeling for parents.
You see!
With tears in our eyes,
We must let go.
But if you need us,
You must know.
We can be there,
Just like that.
Or dial our number,
So we can chat.
We'll come get you,
If you like.
You know we miss you,
So please don't take a hike.
Oh, the loneliest feeling for parents, and we.
When you're too far,
For us to see!

May God always walk beside you as you graduate and leave for MSU to follow your dreams.
Our Love Always,
Mom, Dad, Ken and Janet

Caitlin

The years sure went by fast and now you're grown. You have brought so much joy into our lives. We are so very proud of you.

Julia

17 yrs. ago God blessed our family with a beautiful baby girl, and we have watched you blossom into a beautiful young woman.

You have filled our hearts with much pride, throughout the years, and we know that as you enter this new stage in your life, that God will open many wonderful doors for you.

We are confident you will be successful in all you do. Be assured we will always be there for you. Thank you for helping to keep our lives fun and busy.

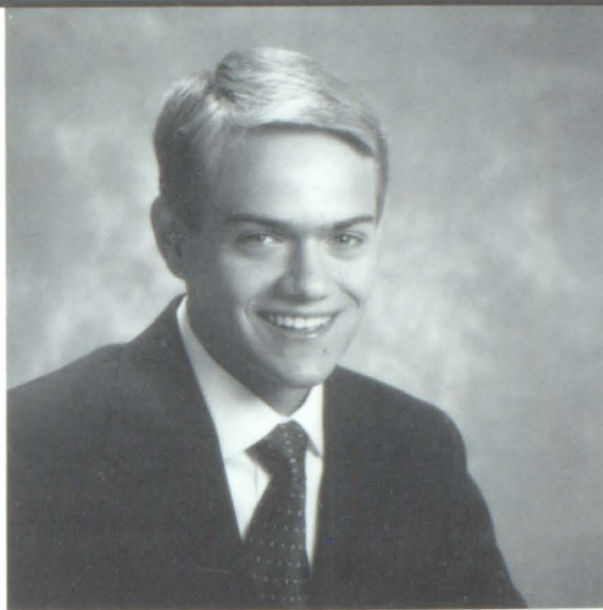

Lots of Love,
Mom, Dad, Jim,
Chad, Stephanie,
and Grandma.

Bekah,

It seems like only yesterday that the big yellow schoolbus stopped to pick you up for your first big day in Kindergarten. All too soon you will be getting into your car and leaving for your first day in college. The years in between have flown by. There have been ups and there have been downs but through it all you have made us so very proud. Your accomplishments are many and as we have watched you grow and mature we realize that this is only the beginning. Wherever your life's path takes you we will be there to support you with our love and understanding.

With all our Love,
Mom, Dad, Grandma, Grandpa, and Uncle Leonard.

It seems like yesterday that our baby was off to kindergarten. Just look at you now!!! We're very proud of you, Jeff!

Love,
Dad, Mom, Matt, and Scottie

There is majesty in every star.
And every moonlit sky.
Take hold of every moment.
Lest wonders pass you by.

Congratulations to our STAR.

Dear Aaron,
We are thankful for who you've been, proud of who you are, and believe in who you'll become.

Congratulations. We love you!

LISA BRYAN MAUCH
JULY 15, 1981

Your first fourteen years hold wonderful memories of good times and the special friendship we shared.

Remember the Baby and the Humphrey's you used to play with,

Or the special Teddy Bear cakes I would make for you?

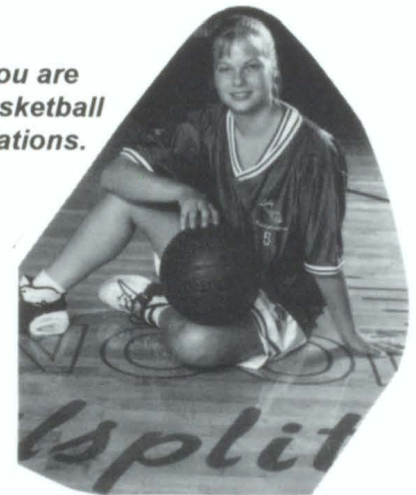

You and I used to play ball in the backyard,

"99 RULZ"

and now I hear you are Captain of the Basketball Team. Congratulations.

It is hard to believe almost eighteen years have past and you are now a young lady.

... a friend is someone you never forget. a person who filled the empty hole of loneliness, with the beauty of love and happiness ...

... may one day you discover a happiness, like this of being able never to forget ...

baiba an bryan

A friend told me you will be graduating High School this year in June. I hope your life is full of happiness and all of your dreams come true. I still hold tight to the memories I have and the friendship we once shared with love. I love you very, very much.

Kelly

When you were little, your mother and I would dream of what kind of person you would be when you grew up. Would you be caring, kind, intelligent, beautiful, or looked up to by others?

You have become all of these things through the years, and because of this, we thank you for making our dreams come true.

Congratulations!

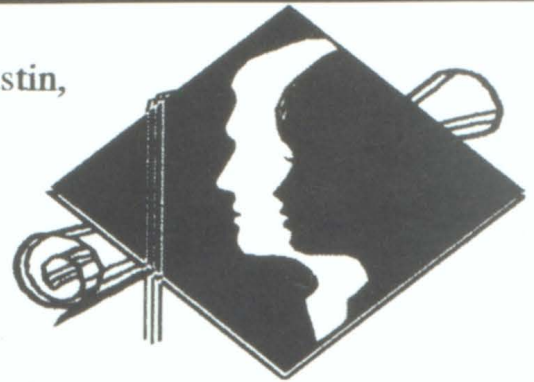

Love you very much,
Dad, Mom, and Matt

Matt
 Your hair was sweet
 With all the curls
 The toys were gone
 And then came girls
 You used to have such Tiny feet
 Then you grew into quite An athlete
 You're a fine young man
 As you have been told Let nothing stand in the way of your goals.

Love Mom and Dad

Austin,

"You have brains in your head. You have any direction you choose. You're on your you'll go."

Christina,

You were walking before you were 10 months old, so it was no surprise to us that you'd be "flying" someday. And although sometimes it's been hard to watch those basket-tosses and elevators, we were with you all the way, watching and supporting you. You set your sights on something and pushed yourself to succeed.

Your Graduation is something we've all looked forward to---you're our third generation to grace the halls of LHS and we're very proud of you. So, along with all of our love—a special prayer.....that God will continue to bless you and watch over you everyday, wherever life's journey takes you.

*Love you always,

Good luck in college.

*We love you, Mom, Dad, Lisa, and

It seems like only yesterday
We waved goodbye to you ...

Off you went, so very proud
To your first day of school

Then T-Ball came and scouts and sports,
Homecoming and prom night too —

Now graduation's finally here
Is it really totally through?

Oh no, not quite, you've just begun,
The world is waiting for you ...

To choose your path and "go for it",
"Great Luck" in ALL YOU DO!!

Much Love, Mom and Dad

Dear Crystal,
 We are so proud of you
 This marks a new beginning in your life.

 Have made it all worthwhile.
 Feel proud to stand where you now stand
 Congratulations on your graduation,
 And the best of luck to you on your future plans
 You are a winner
 And we love you very much.

Love Always,
